HEAL ESTATE SALE .- Messrs. Leitch & Bruns sold yesterday, for J. W. Gray, Esq., Master in Equity, a lot of land with buildings thereon, north side of Hayne-street, for $5000; one-fourth cash, balance in five annual instriments.

ALMOST A MURDER. -- An altereation occurred on Monday, in Smith street, between Andrew Tufner and Milton Spencer, both colored men. Turner attempted to take Spencer's life with an axe, but failed.

FRUIT PACKING .- The manufacturing of boxes for packing fruits, early vegetables, bisquits, &c., is quite a business in our city. One co icern alone sold six thousand last season. They can be made here cheaper than they can be obtained from the North.

THE WEATHER. - The intense cold spell has come to an end, but the weather is still very disagreeable. The fog yesterday morning was very dense, and interfered to some extent with coastwise navigation, and with the operation of the ferries connecting with the city.

PERSONAL .- Major Walton, the efficient superintendent of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad Company, retires from that position on the first of January, and is succeeded by Captain W. Allston

Judge S. L. Hoge, of the Supreme Bench, is at the Charleston Hotel.

ADMITTED TO BAIL .- Messrs. Charles Dondy and J. Fletcher Hodges, the one charged with the murder of Martin, and the other as an accessory in the murder of Randolph, were bailed by Judge Boozer on Tues tay in the sum of five thousand dollars each. Attorney-General Chamberlain appeared for the State and R. A. Fair, Esq , for the pris

IMPROVEMENTS UP KING-STREET.-Yesterday a wooden house was being carried down King-street, on rollers, from Mr. George S. Backer's factory, to be put up in Mr. Cook's yard, corner King and Mary streets. In the place of the house removed Mr. Hacker will build a fine new office and store, to sell trimmings to builders. The front of the building will be ommantal.

THE HIGH SCHOOL .- The exercises of this school will be resumed on the first Monday in Janpary. It has a well-established reputation, which will not suffer in the hands of Principal W. R. Kingman and his assi-tants, who have been conducting the school successfully for several years. German and French are taught without extra charge, and bors are thoroughly prepared for college or busi-

CAPITA CALENDAR .- Of all the new notions that come with the approach of the new year, none is ohesper or more convenient than the capital calendar of the Citizens' Insurance Company of New York. Cause why: It costs nothing, and when one day is parture of the steamer Pilot Boy, of the Charleston and favanuah Steam Packet Line. The new ar-teen casks, reached the city yesterday on the South Carolina Railroad. The tra'n is to return for another fond as soon as discharged. This clay is sent to the North and to England, where it is manufactured into finest crockery. Why could not this be done at home? Here is a chance for capital and enterprise. There is an inerhaustible supply of the clay in the neighborhood of Aiken and Bath, on the line of the South Carolina Railroad.

Southard, Cartain L. R. Ross, which arrived off our bar on Wednesday last, consegned to William Boach, Esq., is a beautiful model, and is finished with all the latest improvements. She is ten hundred and our trade to New York.

CLUBS AND STARS .- Jack Robinson was lodge: in the guardhouse yesterday for stealing corn from Mr. H. Kuck's store, corner King and Lamboll streets.

A. Stone ditto for being drunk and disorderly in Mirket-street, opposite Anson. David Barrow lodged for being drunk and disorderly, and assault and battery on Elv'ra Gray, colore), at No. 25 Anson-street, and for resisting the police, was fined $10 by the Mayor yesterday morning. At the same time Elvira Gray, colored, lodged for using abusive and violent language to Mr. and Mrs. Barrow, and creating a disturbance, and for assaulting Mr. Barrow, wa : discharged. A thief entered the residence of S. N. Brown, Esq., Smith-street, night before last, and carried off severand books. He was about to take a deligatful cake, butin his haste only grabbed a piece of it.

Bridget En. is, white, lodged for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in Anson-street, where she tried to trespass on Mrs. Towhey's premises.

last evening, but as there are some articles not dis-posed of yet, the Home will be open again to-day to visitors who may not have availed themselves of the entertainment while it lasted. It would have been far better to have kept open the remainder of the wiek, and thus compensated for the time lest in holidays, during which it was closed. Mass MEETING-EMANCIPATION DAY.-There will be a mass meeting at Military Hall this evening at seven oclock, or the purpose of perfecting arrangements to celebrate Emancipation Day-the first of January. The programme of the day will be found elsewhere. A finance committee, concisting of J. M. Adams, E C. Tucker and James J. Young.

hard been empowered to receive subscriptions in artherance of the celebration. FATHER RYAN'S POETICAL READING .- There was a full audience to greet the patriotic poet last evening, at Hibernian Hall. He prefaced his reading with an impromptu exposition of his sentiment on the Confederate cause, in which he applied some bitter sarcasm to the recreant sons of the South. Father Byan has a heart overflowing with patriotism, which is displayed at times in eloquent language. The poem on the death of a brother who fell in the Confederate army was earnestly rendered, and excited the sympathy of the audience. The other poem read was the production of a priest, a friend of the poet, and was well received. Numerous calls were made for the "Conquered Banner," which, to the great disappointment of the audience, was not recited, the author not being able to repeat it from memory, and not having a copy with

The circus has gone. The Fair of the Widows' Home is still open.

The police force will be reorganized at the next meeting of Council. Day before yesterday, at dusk, a fire occurred at the farm belonging to the estate of Dr. North, near this city, which destroyed an outhouse occupied by some colored farm hands. It was an accident. Farmers near the city complain that their vegetable patches are robbed every night. A constant watch is necessary to keep off egetable thieves.
